NATIONAL ANTHEM

Nigeria, we hail thee,
Our own dear native land,
Though tribe and tongue may differ,
In brotherhood, we stand,
Nigerians all, and proud to serve
Our sovereign Motherland.

Our flag shall be a symbol
That truth and justice reign,
In peace or battle honour'd,
And this we count as gain,
To hand on to our children
A banner without stain.

O God of all creation,
Grant this our one request,
Help us to build a nation
Where no man is oppressed,
And so with peace and plenty
Nigeria may be blessed.

A Message from the Convener

It gives me great joy and a deep sense of gratitude to warmly welcome you to the Maiden Edition of the Africa Women in Housing & Construction (AWHC) Conference and Business Expo 2026, proudly convened in celebration of International Women's Day.

The built environment across Africa is evolving, and women are increasingly at the forefront—designing our cities, financing housing projects, developing communities, shaping policy, and driving innovation within the housing and construction sector.

Yet, we know there is still much more to be done to ensure that women are fully empowered to lead, create wealth, and take their rightful place at the decision-making tables of our industry.

It is from this understanding and passion that Africa Women in Housing & Construction (AWHC) was born.

AWHC is more than a conference. It is a platform for connection, inspiration, collaboration, and opportunity. It brings together women and supportive allies across the housing and construction value chain—architects, developers, builders, financiers, policymakers, realtors, investors, and emerging professionals—to learn from one another, build partnerships, and expand possibilities.

A key part of the vision of AWHC is also to create a unifying platform that brings together women across the various professional bodies within the housing and construction sector. Through this gathering, we seek to strengthen collaboration among female architects, builders, town planners, lawyers, realtors, financiers, and other industry leaders, fostering a spirit of sisterhood, shared growth, and collective impact. By working together and supporting one another, we can build stronger networks that advance women's leadership and influence within the built environment across Africa.

Our theme, “Work, Wealth & Worth – Redefining Work, Building Wealth, and Elevating Worth in Africa's Built Environment,” speaks to the journey we must take together: recognizing the value of women's work, supporting pathways to wealth creation, and ensuring that women's contributions are acknowledged, respected, and celebrated across the industry.

This gathering is not only about conversations—it is about opening doors, sharing knowledge, strengthening networks, and inspiring the next generation of women leaders in the built environment.

I sincerely thank our distinguished speakers, partners, sponsors, exhibitors, and participants for believing in this vision and for being part of this historic maiden edition.

Together, we are laying the foundation for a stronger and more inclusive future for Africa's housing and construction sector.

I warmly welcome you to AWHC 2026.

We are an innovative, commercial contemporary-luxury-residential real estate developer in Nigeria.

Since the delivery of our first set of unique, and beautifully crafted homes with luxurious interior designs in 2006, we have seen our stunning homes constitute a valuable addition to Nigerian residential architecture. Our designs inspired a revolution with some of the subsequent best home designs in the country carrying many of the signatures we introduced. Hence our reputation as the pioneers of commercial contemporary architecture in Nigeria.

Before our arrival on the scene, what we now term 'affordable luxury' was only available to the super rich. We are pleased to declare that we have raised the bar for what can be considered luxury, bringing beautiful homes in secure and serene estates with amazing aesthetics and super functionality closer to the not-so-super rich.

The Federal Mortgage Bank of Nigeria (FMBN) is a pivotal financial institution established to provide long-term credit facilities to mortgage institutions in Nigeria, playing a crucial role in the development of the nation's housing sector. Originally incorporated in 1956 as the Nigerian Building Society, it was restructured and renamed the Federal Mortgage Bank of Nigeria in 1977. Its primary mandate is to facilitate the provision of affordable housing to Nigerians, particularly those in the low and medium-income brackets, through the effective management of the National Housing Fund (NHF).

As the apex mortgage institution in Nigeria, FMBN mobilizes funds from various sources, including contributions from the National Housing Fund, to provide wholesale funding to Primary Mortgage Banks (PMBs). These PMBs, in turn, disburse mortgage loans to eligible Nigerians. FMBN also offers various mortgage products, such as the National Housing Fund (NHF) Loan, the Cooperative Housing Development Loan, and the Individual Construction Loan, all designed to make homeownership more accessible. The Bank is also actively involved in estate development loans, supporting housing developers to deliver affordable homes. With its headquarters in Abuja, FMBN remains central to the Federal Government's efforts to bridge the housing deficit and promote sustainable housing development across the country.

Real Estate Developers Association of Nigeria (REDAN) is the principal umbrella body of the organized real estate development sector in Nigeria, officially recognized by the Federal Government since 2002. The association plays a key role in facilitating the delivery of affordable housing and advancing sustainable real estate development across the country.

With a strong nationwide membership, REDAN serves as a strategic platform connecting government, private sector stakeholders, investors, and development partners in the housing industry. It acts as a key advocacy and policy-influencing body, driving reforms and initiatives aimed at improving access to affordable housing for Nigerians.

REDAN works closely with major institutions in the housing and finance ecosystem including government agencies, mortgage institutions, commercial banks, and development finance partners to strengthen the mortgage sector and accelerate housing delivery. Through strategic collaborations and partnerships, the association supports innovative financing solutions and promotes large-scale housing development.

Membership of REDAN consists of corporate organizations involved in real estate development and related sectors, including residential, commercial, and industrial property development
